INN Love

Over 250 years of tradition in Princeton, NJ

When it comes to describing the Nassau Inn, it could be said that the myth has been modernized. Our charming stone façade gives way to a spacious, stylish hotel awash in boutique comfort and sophistication. It is a place visitors can host a chic, stylish wedding for up to 200 family and friends where Paul Revere and Thomas Paine gathered at our original 52 Nassau Street location over 250 years ago.

The Palmer Square area surrounding the Inn offers a beautiful setting for wedding photos. Stroll the tree-shaded sidewalks and take in charming colonial architecture complemented by modern elements. The Princeton University campus is also located within walking distance, and weddings guests often park their car once for the entire weekend, choosing to enjoy the best of Princeton on foot.

Our Palmer Square boutique hotel has been the standard bearer for memorable celebrations since 1937, with generations of Princeton area families allowing us to share their special day with family and friends.

MANSI

from The Knot

“Working with the Nassau Inn was absolutely incredible. I think the best way to describe the team here is that they are true event professionals - from the sales and contracting process to the planning to the execution, the team has done and seen it all and knows exactly how to make your wedding flawless. I am very organized and type A, and each time I asked them a question, they were two steps ahead of me. On the day of the wedding, my mom and I were worried about nothing because we knew the staff had it all covered. We worked with Jaime Wolf throughout the planning process and Melissa Dill was our day-of coordinator. Both of them are fun and warm but know how to get stuff done, which I totally appreciate. We had our ceremony, cocktail hour, and reception all at the Inn, which made it super simple. An added bonus is that most of our guests stayed at the hotel, so the venue felt like a hive of activity all weekend. We have received nothing but wonderful feedback about the wedding, and I know it was in large parts due to the level of organization and experience of this team. Thank you for everything!!”

“Both my husband and I are Princeton alumni and wanted to have a venue close to the University Chapel where the ceremony was taking place. The Nassau Inn was the perfect location for us. We got the most beautiful photos and the staff was great. Melissa did an outstanding job attending to our every need. The day of the wedding was not stressful because we knew the big day was in good hands. It was so nice to just get to enjoy our big day without having to worry. The dinner and reception was fantastic, everybody loved the food and the staff really spoiled us. I would highly recommend the Nassau Inn.”
